

HEALTH AND WELFARE SERVICES MANAGERS (ANZSCO: 1342)

Health and Welfare Services Managers plan, organise, direct, control and coordinate the professional and administrative aspects of health and welfare programs and services.

Employment

Employment for this occupation remained relatively steady in the past five years and rose strongly in the long-term (ten years). Looking forward, employment for Health and Welfare Services Managers to November 2020 is expected to grow very strongly.

Unemployment

Unemployment for Health and Welfare Services Managers is below average.

Job openings

Over the five years to November 2019, the number of job openings for Health and Welfare Services Managers is expected to be average (between 10,001 and 25,000). Job openings count both employment growth and turnover (defined as workers leaving their occupation for other employment or leaving the workforce).

Educational profile

The most common level of educational attainment for Health and Welfare Services Managers is Bachelor degree (33.7 per cent).

Gender

The female share of Health and Welfare Services Managers is 80.8 per cent and 88.5 per cent of Health and Welfare Services Managers work full time. Average weekly hours for full time workers are 36.8 (compared to 40.2 for all occupations).

Age profile

The main age group is 45-54 years (31.6 per cent) and the median age is 51 years (compared to 40 years for all occupations).

Earnings

In August 2014 (latest available data) weekly earnings full-time before tax (and not including employer superannuation) were $1,515 (compared to earnings for all occupations of $1,200).

Industries

Health and Welfare Services Managers are mainly employed in: Health Care and Social Assistance; Public Administration and Safety; and Education and Training.

